A TERRIBLE CYCLONE

Eighty-Four Buildings in Red Bud, Ill., Demolished.

TWO PERSONS KILLED, MANY INJURED

And Others Rendered Homeless—Churches and Schools Destroyed—Brick and Stone no Barrier—A Scene of Utter Desolation.

Red Bud, Ill., Nov. 18.—The city of Red Bud, population 2,000, situated thirty miles southeast of St. Louis on the Mobile & Ohio railroad, was visited by a cyclone at 3:30 o'clock yesterday morning of wonderful intensity. Eighty-four buildings were demolished, two persons killed, twelve seriously hurt and many injured. It is estimated that $100,000 worth of property was destroyed.

Mrs. S. A. Speer.

It is believed several of the injured will die.

THE CYCLONE'S PATH.
Entering Red Bud from the south, the cyclone unroofed and partially demolished the Catholic church and school and the residence of Herman Droege. The German Methodist church was then leveled. After destroying several barns, blowing in gables and tearing away all kinds of fences, it next attacked the large two-story residence of Peter Kardi, which is of solid stone, and crumbled it to fragments. Mrs. Kardi was seriously injured.

The two-story frame house of John Hahn was unroofed and otherwise wrecked. The double brick, owned by L. Kaffenberger, and occupied by S. D. Perry as a dwelling, office and composing room of the Red Bud Democrat, was entirely destroyed.

By a miracle Mr. Perry's family escaped serious injury, and crawled out from the mass of wreck which fell upon them while in their beds, bearing foot almost naked and painfully bruised.

The new brick house of John Long was the next unroofed. Clara Peter, owner of an agricultural warehouse had the second story cut away by a knife. The residences of John Landholdt, Joseph Voght and Mrs. D. Offord suffered.

The residences of Christ Yaeger, Peter Jennesmann, Ernest Budd and G. Bolhoffner were destroyed, as was a new frame house belonging to Mrs. Jacob Koel. Mrs. Koel was blown to pieces. Mrs. Koel was injured so seriously that she will probably die. Her son of 11 years will die of his terrible bruises.

HOUSE SOWN IN RUINS.
The following is a list of the houses destroyed:
Catholic church and school, German Methodist church, the houses of W. Perkins, H. D. Roeger, F. B. Roeger, Joe. Voght, John Lang, John Landholdt, John Hahn, Peter Cardell, S. D. Perry, L. Kaffenberger, Ernest Budd, Mrs. Budd, Christ Yaeger, city jail and engine-house, Mr. Hausermann, C. Grolow, P. Jennesmann, Mrs. Jacob Koel, Mr. Rosenauer, John Kueker, Henry Wahlmann, William Baetner, Henry Blon, Dr. Allyn John Barnes, M. Tevelier, H. W. Schmitt, Wm. Vorges, John Mandersfeld, Wm. Michaels, B. Miller, Chas. Guebert, P. Jennesmann, public schools, Wm. Stinde, J. Jacob, Jacob Miller, Wm. Williams, Frank Lang, Geo. Reiss, Aldert Starr, Mrs. Sophie Rathert, Henry Rathert, Dorothea Rathert, John Winkler, Mrs. Winkler, Wm. Kolter, Frank Lish, Fred D. Guler, Continental Hotel, Mrs. Dora Kaufmann, C. Boedeker's office, Lutheran church and school.

Where Wednesday night stood a beautiful little city, full of happy homes, there is to-day a scene of wreck and desolation. Houses, barns, fences and orchards are leveled to the earth and spread over the surrounding country. Death and suffering, wounds and sickness, cold and lack of shelter met the eye when they broke yesterday morning.

The horrors of an ink darkness, lighted up momentarily by flashes of lightning, added to the fear and madness which oppressed all minds during this terrible visitation. Daylight only made more terrible that which night had hidden.

A TERRIBLE SCENE.
The scene is difficult to describe. The streets when lit up by the first streaks of dawn presented a pitiable scene of ruin and utter desolation. On every hand rose the mass of the injured and the great destruction.

The streets were blocked with the debris of the storm's wreck and for some time it was unable to get on account of the suffocating clouds of the terrible visitation. The one given above is believed to cover all the casualties, and the number of houses wrecked by the storm is fairly complete.

As soon as the more fortunate of the people of the little city recovered from the first shock of the calamity effect were at once directed to caring for the injured.

They were taken to the homes of those who had escaped. The doctors of the village dressed their wounds.

There is little hope for at least two.

OLD MEN SEEKING REINSTATEMENT.

A Large Check Cashed—Nonunion Men Followed on the Streets and Insulted—Investigating the Chicago End of the Strike.

Investigation of the Chicago End of the Affair.
CHICAGO, Nov. 18.—Senator Gallinger, of New Hampshire, and Senator Peffer, of Kansas, of the senatorial committee of Enquiry appointed in August by President Harrison to investigate the Homestead affair, began yesterday, the examination of the Chicago end of the relations between the labor organization and the detectives. Superintendent Frank Murray, of the Chicago Pinkerton agency, was the first witness called. In reply to questions asked by the committee, he stated that the agency kept on hand Winchester rifles, revolvers and ammunition for strike cases; gave special rates to corporations; required a large sum of money to be paid in advance for the men sent to Homestead; and that the men sent to Homestead had been armed here, but admitted that arms were transmitted in advance of the strike.

He also testified that the agency had been in the city since the strike began, and that the men sent to Homestead had been armed here, but admitted that arms were transmitted in advance of the strike.

THE NATIONAL GAME.

A Single Championship Series Next Year with Some New Rules.

CHICAGO, Nov. 18.—Baseball will not be played in divided championship series by the National League and American League until the last Saturday in September. During this period each team will be scheduled to play 152 games.

The league decided this important point late Wednesday night and then adjourned to meet in New York on March 1. No double games will be played until the first series, a new rule providing that no two games shall be played in one day for one price of admission, except in the final series, when all tied or postponed games must be played.

John B. Day was chosen to represent the New York club in the directory. Brush, Von der Horst and Solen were appointed a committee of rules, and will report at the spring meeting. Jack Phelps, of Louisville, was re-elected attorney of the league, and George W. Howe, of St. Louis, was elected a member of the league.

The board of directors was chosen by lot. All but one of the present board was retained, the new board being New York, which replaces Washington. The directors are: Hart, Chicago; Brush, Cincinnati; Von der Horst, St. Louis; Von der Horst, Baltimore; and Solen, Boston.

The Latest "Demand" of the Farmers' Alliance.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 18.—Important among the demands of the Farmers' Alliance and Industrial Union yesterday is one for a railroad from British America to the Gulf through Nebraska, Kansas, Missouri, Indian territory and Texas, to some point on the Gulf, probably Galveston. The road is to be chartered by the national government and the people of each state along the line are expected to help. The state will be asked to donate all convicts to the construction.

It is estimated that the whole line can be built for $15,000,000. The project is to be carried out by the national government and the people of each state along the line are expected to help. The state will be asked to donate all convicts to the construction.

THE FARMERS' ALLIANCE.
MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 18.—Despite the efforts made by his friends, the Tillman letters continue to be a source of trouble to the Farmers' Alliance. The body went into secret session at 1 o'clock yesterday morning, and one of Louck's supporters expressed the desire to withdraw from the alliance, bringing the whole matter before the alliance, and demanding Tillman's expulsion from the order for using his official position to the detriment of the alliance. The friends of Tillman declare in this event they will introduce a counter resolution demanding the expulsion of all the officers who made campaign speeches for the third party and the republican party.

Counting the Vote in Alabama.
MONTGOMERY, Ala., Nov. 18.—The houses of the Alabama legislature met in joint session yesterday to open the count of the recent state election. It showed Jones' majority over Kolb for governor to be 11,435.

There was no effort to interfere with the count, with the exception of a request from a senator to enter a protest, which the presiding officer declined to entertain on the ground that he was simply a ministerial officer, complying with a clause of the state constitution, making it mandatory to open and declare the result.

Ohio Given to the Republicans.
COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 18.—The democratic members of the Fayette county board of elections have agreed to resign the election, as they believe there has been a dispute that at one time threatened to become serious. This settles the election in Ohio, and insures the success of the republicans state ticket with the exception of one elector.

The Curtis Jury Completed.
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 18.—The jury in the Curtis murder trial was secured yesterday, and on request of Judge Murray continued the case until Monday next. It is thought the case can be disposed of in five days. Curtis will not be ordered into custody until Monday.

SECRET SOCIETIES.

Under the Ban of the Catholic Church.

Takes Up and Disposes of the Matter—Not Free Masons Only But Old Fellows and Sons of Temperance Excommunicated.

New York, Nov. 18.—The second day's session of the annual conference of the archbishops of the Roman Catholic church in the United States began at 10 o'clock yesterday morning at the archiepiscopal residence, Cardinal Gibbons presiding, as at Wednesday's session. All the archbishops and their representatives were present, as was Archbishop Sotillo, the papal delegate. Again the deliberations were carried on behind closed doors.

The major portion of the time, it was learned, was occupied in a discussion of the question of the condemnation of certain secret societies. The deliberations referred chiefly to the Odd Fellows, numbering about 500,000 in the United States, and the Sons of Temperance, whose roll includes about 70,000 members. Archbishop Keane of Milwaukee, brought the matter to the attention of the council, by presenting the petition of the German Catholic central society of the United States, which was adopted at Dubuque, Ia., in September last, asking the conference to clearly define the designation "secret society" in plain and unmistakable terms, as some do not have been raised in the minds of some of the church authorities as to whether the societies named come under the ban of the papal bull.

In explaining his position, Archbishop Keane said that it is absolutely not true that the Free Masons are the only society forbidden by the church and that, consequently, a Catholic who joins any other lodge or society, except the Free Masons.

He quoted from the injunction of the third plenary council at Baltimore as follows:

1. That all former degrees of the Roman pontiffs against all societies condemned by the holy see as to be certain in the constitution, "Apostolicum Sedes," and the meaning of the Roman pontiff, that the Free Masons and the Carbonari, and all other societies which are in opposition to the church and against the lawful government of the state.

FOR CHRIST AND THE CHURCH THE CORDIAL WORDS OF GREETING.

Sermon by Dr. Burrell--Open Parliament To-Day--The Attendance Large--Free Exchange of Ideas Good Papers by Ladies--To-Night's Services.

The weather was not very encouraging to the Endeavorers yesterday. Large numbers however came in on the trains from all parts of the state. The first meetings were held at 4 o'clock yesterday and last night. The 4 o'clock convention was held in the lecture room of the Presbyterian church and was devoted largely to prayer for the success of the convention. The meeting was conducted by President Charles B. Holdrege and Mrs. F. D. Raggs of Champaign presided at the organ. The singing was in charge of L. F. Lindsay of St. Louis. The night session was also held at the Presbyterian church. Notwithstanding the bad weather the church was packed. The exercises opened with a song service led by L. F. Lindsay, singing the Deatur songs. During the part of the service Mr. Lindsay announced a song dedicated to Deatur and the session of the Y. P. S. C. E. This song was sung with much enthusiasm and was credited to the author. Rev. C. E. Torrey read the Eighth Psalm in a responsive service and W. I. Davenport, of Weldon, led in prayer. Then the convention sang that good old song which makes all men feel fraternal, "Blest Be the Tie That Binds." President Holdrege divided the responsibility of appointing the usual committees by requesting the delegates from Quincy, Chicago, Deatur, Rockford, Peoria, East St. Louis, Springfield, Bloomington, Galesburg, Danville, Champaign and Jacksonville, to select one person from each of these cities to serve on a nominating committee. The President was also instructed to appoint a committee to revise the constitution to report not later than Saturday. Rev. W. H. Penhallegon, of the First Presbyterian church of this city, then proceeded to deliver the welcoming address which was full of brilliant and pleasing passages and thoughts. President Charles B. Holdrege delivered the response. He said: "In behalf of the delegates and the Illinois union, I thank you for this cordial and eloquent welcome. I remember when, a year ago in Peoria, we decided to come here this year. We have been praying since then for the success of this convention. We are sure our prayers and yours will be answered. We shall pray from beginning to end that the work of our Lord and Master Jesus Christ shall be glorified and prospered. You remember how Dr. Bondhalder closed his speech at Peoria: 'Lead on Deatur.' I trust that Deatur will lead on, and that here the convention shall do better than it ever has done. I trust that we have all come here with love for each other and love for the cause of Jesus Christ. I trust that in all that we do here we shall be actuated by love for each other. If we sacrifice nothing for others the work means nothing to us. If we do sacrifice for others we shall make the work fruitful for ourselves. Let us then work together, heart to heart, anxious only for the glory of this work. We thank these Deatur friends for this beautiful house of worship, for the homes they have opened to us and for their kind welcome and their earnest words." President Holdrege introduced Rev. James Burrell, pastor of the Collegiate Reformed church of New York City, who delivered the convention sermon. He began by saying: "The man who could not say anything to an audience like this is an Shakespeare said, 'It is treason, treason and spoils.' I can see this is a determined audience. These forces show that they mean something." The sermon was replete with encouragement to Christian workers and full of wholesome advice as to the proper method and spirit for effective Christian work. After the sermon there was a song and then Rev. Thomas B. Morris of Chicago offered prayer. Mr. Penhallegon then announced that if any delegates had not been seated they could be properly located by calling upon the entertainment committee. The committee all wear badges by which they may be known. After another song Rev. H. H. Ouel of Deatur pronounced the benediction. FRIDAY, NOV. 18--MORNING. The district meeting at 8 o'clock was conducted by Rev. E. M. McMillan of Gibson City, the motto of the service being "What Seek Ye?" followed by a song service. BUSINESS. President Holdrege opened the business session of the convention at 9 o'clock when Charles F. Mills, the state secretary, read a report making very gratifying showing of the growth and influence of the Endeavor societies in the state, and united in the noble work for "Christ and the Church." The active membership the past year had increased over 4000. There has been marked increase in the junior societies. Illinois stands third in the list of states in point of numbers. There are 1800 societies in the state, the average membership estimated at 45, making nearly 80,000 young people enlisted in the work of the Lord in the state. The societies are divided as follows: Presbyterians..... 300 17,750 Congregational..... 300 13,500 Christian..... 125 8,750 Baptist..... 125 8,750 Methodist..... 99 6,450 O. P. church..... 75 5,250 English Lutheran..... 45 3,150 United Brethren..... 14 1,000 Friends..... 15 1,125 M. F. church..... 15 1,125 Total churches..... 1,000 67,500 Total disciples..... 1,200 85,000 Total receipts for year including Peoria convention..... 1,000.31 Total disbursements..... 1,064.33 Cash balance..... 75.99 open meeting. Topic, "Our Convention." Benjamin Raggs, of Danville, addressed the convention on the delegates' responsibility, followed by an address by Miss Socia L. Stewart of Quincy on How can the most good be obtained. The leaders urged personal responsibility and active work in the church and in every-day life. Many delegates from various parts of the state made comments on the papers and offered suggestions how best to profit by the convention. One Chicago lady said the delegates should put away their note-books, pay attention and drink in that which is best. She was hopelessly in the minority. Singing by the congregation. "Echoes from the Field," by District officers, was a service conducted by State Secretary Mills. Four brief prayers preceded the exercises. Brothers Raggs, Callender and Brown were among those called upon.

Rev. W. H. Daley, of Macon, Rev. Temple, of East St. Louis, Bro. Leavitt, of Canton, Bro. Hamill, of Chicago, Bro. Rockwood, of Gibson City, Bro. Stoupe, of Belleville, Bro. Miller, of Normal, Bro. Reynolds, of La Salle and Grundy counties, Bro. Hughes, of Quincy, Bro. Hughes, of Hillsboro, Bro. Hughes, of Jacksonville, Bro. Frampton, Pittsfield, Sister Ethel Phillips, Cairo, Miss Stewart, Quincy, Sister Allee, of Fillmore, Sister Wilkoy, Danville, Sister Sabie, of Champaign, Bro. Mills, Sangamon county, and many others gave reports of good work everywhere in the state. Singing--"Work for the Night is Coming."

THE OPEN PARLIAMENT. The open parliament service, which was a time of free discussion, was conducted by Rev. Davenport. Earnest prayers were offered by Bros. Stewart, Clark, Willis and Hughes. The general topic for discussion was "What can we do to make the coming year to make it more effective?" The first paper was by Miss Leila C. Brown, of Chicago, on "Presidents of Societies." Miss Brown's idea of efficient work is that no member of any society should be without some degree of personal responsibility. The president should have personal magnetism and become a leader socially as well as in the practical work of his society, and all members should assume it. "Corresponding Secretaries" was the topic assigned Mrs. J. B. Bulley, of Mendota. She suggested that the secretary should be made a permanent officer, who is the connecting link between the home society and all other societies. He should always be active in making information and in extending the influence of the Endeavor work. There was general discussion as to the duties of presidents and corresponding secretaries, which were pointed and helpful. Singing--"True Hearted, Whole Hearted."

"Societies, Sentinels" was the caption of a thoughtful paper read by Mrs. Chas. E. Torrey, of Deatur. The composition covered the practical duties of the look out committees and was heard with pleasure and profit. It was well read and the lady was generously applauded at the close. Singing--"Hail Me." William McNally, of Chicago, a native of Scotland, talked interestingly and amusingly. "Planned Endeavor," in place of Rev. J. M. Sturtevant, of Galesburg, who had telegraphed that he could not be present. Bro. McNeill is original in thought and delivery, and may be put down as the chief humorist of the convention. Prayer by Rev. Stoupe, of Streator. Singing--"True Hearted, Whole Hearted."

The Pastors' Half Hour service was conducted by Rev. H. H. Ouel of Deatur. It was a service devoted wholly to the personal testimonies of the pastors as to the benefits the Endeavor members were to the ministers and the church. Revs. Ouel and Torrey of Deatur, Smith, of Normal, Dunlap of Quincy, Clark, of Peoria City; Daley, of Macon, Stolz, of Streator, Trowell, of Springfield, Day, of Chicago, Foster of Chicago, Long, of Springfield, and Stutz, of Deatur, Hill of Peoria, Reynolds of Peoria, Miller of Normal, Bartlett of Peoria, Vokel of Napoleon, Wallace of Chicago, and others, voiced the blessings the societies had been to them in the work. After the adjournment the business men's prayer meeting was held at the Y. M. C. rooms. It was largely attended. FRIDAY AFTERNOON. 1:30--Bible Study, J. D. It was stated that a member of a Chicago society had gone to Washington in the week and had organized a working society in two families. One young lady who spoke said she was from Joe-les, with the accent on the Joe. By a show of hands it was demonstrated that a large majority of the societies in the state had their best meetings on Sunday evening. The societies at Streator and Ottawa, besides doing missionary work, pay the salaries of two clergymen for preaching in rural fields. The Quincy society pays the salary of young men could be induced to attend the Endeavor meeting. A laugh went around when a young man called out, "Send the girls after them." One society has more boys than girls, and the boys had gone after the girls and they were getting more numerous in that society. A lady stated that her society was paying for a telephone at the house of a confirmed invalid so that he could talk to friends in his town. Miss Stewart said one thing should be remembered and that is, that corresponding secretaries should correspond. Somebody asked, "How shall we best educate presidents of societies as to their duties?" A delegate answered, "Send them to the convention."

SUICIDE BY DROWNING.

Charles Chandler Finds Rest in the Sangamon River.

The Body Found in Water Waist Deep--Left a Note--Resided on East Bradford Street.

Last night in the midst of the rain and snowstorm Coroner Bendure received a telegram to come to the Sangamon river four miles east of Deatur and take charge of the body of a man that had been pulled to the edge of the stream and tied to a tree. The coroner drove out at an early hour this morning and held the inquest. The body was identified as that of Charles Chandler, aged 34 years and single, foreman in Washburn truck department for eleven years. It was stated that Chandler had been seen yesterday afternoon walking over the Washburn bridge. Later in the evening two young men while walking on the west bank of the river, above the bridge, discovered a man's hat, and a short distance away in the water went deep they saw the body of a man. They pulled it to the shore and tied it to a tree. The verdict of the jury was that the deceased had come to his death by drowning. He jumped into the water in his shirt-sleeves, leaving his coat on the bank. The pockets were filled with rocks. The body is at the Ballard undertaking rooms. Deceased was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Chandler, who resides at 404 East Bradford street. His sisters are Mrs. Ethel Sheshe, Miss Maud, Ellis and Lillian Chandler. Chandler was at his home yesterday apparently in good spirits. The only motive suggested for the suicide is because he could not quit drinking. He had been taking the drink cure and doubtless he had a hard struggle. He was temporarily deranged when he took his life. He left a note at his home telling his parents that they would find his body in the Sangamon river near the Washburn bridge. The note was not found until this morning.

A TERRIBLE CYCLONE

Eighty-Four Buildings in Red Bud, Ill., Demolished.

And Others Rendered Homeless—Churches and Schools Destroyed—Brick and Stone no Barrier—A Scene of Utter Desolation.

RED BUD, Ill., Nov. 18.—The city of Red Bud, population 2,000, situated thirty miles southwest of St. Louis on the Mobile & Ohio railroad, was visited by a cyclone at 8:30 o'clock yesterday morning of wonderful intensity. Eighty-four buildings were demolished, two persons killed, and many seriously hurt and many injured. It is estimated that $100,000 worth of property was destroyed.

It is believed several of the injured will die.

THE CYCLONE'S PATH.
Entering Red Bud from the south, the storm first unroofed and partially demolished the Catholic church and school and the residence of Herman Droege. The German Methodist church was then leveled. After destroying several barns, blowing in gables and tearing away all kinds of fences, it next attacked the large two-story residence of Peter Karmel, which is of solid stone, and crumbled it to fragments. Mrs. Karmel was seriously injured.

The two-story frame house of John Hahn was unroofed and otherwise wrecked.
A large double brick, owned by L. Kaffenberger, and occupied by S. D. Perry as a dwelling, office and composing room of the Red Bud Democrat, was entirely destroyed.

By a miracle Mr. Perry's family escaped serious injury, and he himself was injured only slightly. The house was blown away from the mass of brick which had fallen on them while in their beds, coming forth almost naked and painfully bruised.

The new brick house of John Long was the next unroofed. Claus Peterson's agricultural warehouse had the second story away as by a knife. The residences of John Landholdt, Joseph Voght and Mrs. D. O'Harding suffered.

MOVES NOW IN RUINS.
The following is a list of the houses destroyed:

Catholic church and school, German Methodist church, the houses of W. Perkins, H. D. Roeger, F. B. Roeger, J. W. Voght, John Lang, John Landholdt, John Hahn, Peter Karmel, S. D. Perry, L. Kaffenberger, Ernest Buddie, Mrs. Buddie, Charles Jager, city jail and engine-house, Mrs. Havemann, C. Grolow, P. Jeannemann, Mrs. Jacob Kober, Mr. Rosemeyer, John Kueker, Henry Wahlmann, William Butner, Henry Bion, Dr. Alley, John Barnes, M. Triggler, H. W. Schmidt, Wm. Vages, John Manderfeldt, Wm. Michals, R. Miller, Chas. Guebert, P. Enzenauer, public schools, Wm. Stinde, J. Just, Jacob Miller, Wm. Williamson, Frank Lang, Geo. Boedeker's office, Lutheran church and school.

UTTER DESOLATION.
Where Wednesday night stood a beautiful little city, full of happy homes, there is to-day a scene of wreck and desolation. Houses, barns, fences and orchards are leveled to the earth and spread over the surrounding country. Death and suffering, wounds and nakedness, cold and lack of shelter met the eye when day broke yesterday morning.

The horrors of an icy darkness, lighted up momentarily by flashes of lightning, added to the fear and madness which oppressed all minds during this terrible visitation. Daylight only made more terrible that which night had hidden.

A TERRIBLE SCENE.
The scene is difficult to describe. The streets when lit up by the first streaks of dawn presented a pitiable scene of ruin and utter desolation.
On every hand rose the mounds of the injured and the grief of their friends.

The streets were blocked with the debris of the storm's wreck and for some time it was impossible to get an accurate list of the sufferers of the terrible visitation. The one given above is believed to cover all the casualties, and the number of houses wrecked by the storm is fairly complete.

As soon as the more fortunate of the people of the little city recovered from the first shock of the calamity efforts were at once directed to caring for the injured.

They were taken to the homes of those who had escaped, and were cared for by willing hands, and the doctors of the village dressed their wounds.

There is little hope for at least two of the more seriously wounded, and they will hardly live through the day. Some of the freaks of the storm were marvellous. Here a house was literally lifted from the ground and carried a vast distance, while a neighboring residence seemed to have escaped with comparatively little injury. Stone buildings offer no resistance to the strength of the cyclone's fury. This fact was fully attested by the fate which overtook the handsome and solid structure occupied as a residence by Peter Hardell.

It was crumpled to a shapeless mass as though it had been a toy house, with scarcely one stone standing above another over the foundation.

The Twister at Other Points—A Piece of Blister.

CHICAGO, Nov. 18.—A cyclone struck the southern portion of St. Clair, Washington and Clinton counties, this state, at an early hour yesterday morning. It came from the south, blowing down Fayetteville, New Memphis and Queen's Lake. The large lumber sheds at the latter place were scattered in all directions. The cloud was black as night and appeared to roll upon the earth. Whole orchards were destroyed, many of the trees being twisted off at the ground. No serious casualties are reported. The course of the storm was from southwest to northeast. Much damage was done in the neighborhood of Safford. Dispatches from all parts of the state say that a free blizzard is raging and that the property loss will be considerable.

THE NATIONAL GAME.

A Single Championship Series Next Year with Some New Rules.

CHICAGO, Nov. 18.—Baseball will not be played in divided championship series by the National League next year. The season will open the last Thursday in April and close the last Saturday in September. During this period each team will be scheduled to play 132 games.

The league decided this important point late Wednesday night and then adjourned to meet in New York on March 1. No double games will be played until the final series, a new rule providing that no two teams shall be played in one day for one price of admission, except in the final series, when all tied or postponed games must be played.

John R. Day was chosen to represent the New York club in the directory. Brush, Von der Horst and Soden were appointed a committee on rules, and will report at the spring meeting. Jack Phelps, of Louisville, was re-elected manager of the league, and George W. Howe, of Cincinnati, the Cleveland club, was made an honorary member of the league.

The board of directors was chosen by lot. All but one of the present board was retained, the new member being New York, which replaces Washington. The directors are: Hart, Chicago; Brush, Cincinnati; Von der Ahe, St. Louis; Von der Horst, Baltimore, and Soden, Boston.

The Latest "Demand" of the Farmers' Alliance.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 18.—Important among the demands of the Farmers' Alliance and Industrial Union yesterday is one for a railroad from British America to the Gulf through Nebraska, Kansas, Missouri, Indian Territory and Texas, to some point on the Gulf, probably Galveston. The road is to be chartered by the national government and the people of each state along the line are expected to help. The states will be asked to donate land, and labor not actually employed in penitentiaries to the construction.

It is estimated that the whole line can be built for $15,000 a mile. It is expected to demonstrate by this experiment that railroads can be built and operated cheaper by state or government aid than by individuals or corporations. A bill asking congress to charter the road is now being drawn by Delegate Lodge, of Texas.

The Farmers' Alliance.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 18.—Despite the efforts made by his friends, the Tillman letters continue to be a source of turmoil at the alliance convention. The body went into secret session at 1 o'clock yesterday morning, and one of Loneke's supporters expressed a determination to introduce resolutions bringing the whole matter before the alliance, and demanding Tillman's expulsion from the order for using his official position to aid the democratic party.

The friends of Tillman declared in this event they will introduce a counter resolution demanding the expulsion of all the officers who made campaign speeches for the third party and the republican party.

Counting the Vote in Alabama.
MONTGOMERY, Ala., Nov. 18.—The houses of the Alabama legislature met in joint session yesterday to open and count the result of the recent state election. It showed Jones' majority over Kolb for governor to be 11,435.

There was no effort to interfere with the count, with the exception of a request from a senator to enter a protest, which the presiding officer declined to entertain on the ground that he was simply a ministerial officer, complying with a clause of the state constitution, making it mandatory to open and declare the result.

Ohio Given to the Republicans.
COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 18.—The democratic legislature yesterday adopted a resolution to open and count the election certificates, over which there has been a dispute that at one time threatened to become serious. This settles the election in Ohio, and insures the success of the republican ticket with the exception of one elector.

OLD MEN SEEKING REINSTATEMENT.

A Large Cash Cashed—Nonunion Men Followed on the Streets and Chastised—Investigating the Chicago End of the Strike.

Investigation of the Chicago End of the Strike.

CHICAGO, Nov. 18.—Senator Gallinger, of New Hampshire, a senator-elect of Kansas, and the senatorial committee of seven appointed in August by President Harrison to investigate the Homestead affair, began yesterday the examination of the Chicago end of the strike. Asked whether the labor organizations and the detectives, Superintendent Frank Murray, of the Chicago Pinkerton agency, was the first witness called. In reply to questions he testified that the Pinkerton agency kept a hand of detectives, rifles, revolvers and ammunition for strike cases; gave special rates to corporations; required references as to the character of men employed for strike purposes, and exercised as much care in selecting them as in selecting men for the patrol and detective services.

The witness denied that the men sent by the agency to Homestead were armed here, but admitted that arms were transported in the agency's cars.

Assistant Superintendent Davidson, of the Pinkerton agency, was also called, but his testimony was not of much importance. Asked whether the men sent to Homestead had been sworn in as deputy sheriffs he said he did not know. William L. Pinkerton and Robert A. Pinkerton, the witness said, could give the desired information.

Stamped the Homestead Works—Cash for the Strikers.

HOMESTEAD, Pa., Nov. 18.—Three hundred Slavs and Huns stamped the Carnegie company's works for employment yesterday. Half this number was given immediate work and the balance will be placed soon. The heads of the large union association and the advisory committee of the strikers held a conference yesterday afternoon. When the conference ended there was much enthusiasm among the large crowd of strikers on the street.

Chairman Conford of the advisory committee said the strike was still on. President Garland, of the Amalgamated, had a large check cashed at the Homestead bank yesterday, and this caused much rejoicing among the strikers.

A Break in the Strikers' Ranks.

DECATUR FALLS, Pa., Nov. 18.—More new men are entering the Carnegie mill and there are unmistakable evidences of a break in the strikers' ranks. Henry B. Bower, of Decatur Falls, Ill., president of T. W. Harvey, Chicago, treasurer Charles E. Leonard, Bellair, Mo., vice president, J. H. J. Bower, secretary. The next meeting will be held one year hence in Chicago.

The Ladies Got Hot.

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 18.—Yesterday afternoon's session of the nonpartisan W. C. T. U. convention was a very lively one, some of the discussions being so warm that the ladies narrowly escaped passing the lie. The resolution to endorse the Keeler cure was tabled.

The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Ellen J. Robinson, of Cleveland; vice-president, Mrs. Wm. Campbell, of Pittsburgh; general secretary, Mrs. Howard M. Ingram, of Cleveland; recording secretary, Mrs. Florence Porter, of Winthrop, Me.; treasurer, Mrs. C. Cornelia Alfred, of Brooklyn.

Mrs. Burton protested on her knees that she had not tasted drink, but the inhuman monster pulled out a revolver and fired twice in the region of the heart. She can not recover.

Probably Fatal Accident.
WHEELING, W. Va., Nov. 18.—A bad accident occurred on Caldwell's Run, a mile east of town, yesterday morning. T. J. Wendell and Henry Buck, expressmen, were driving a team of horses and threw the wagon over a cliff twenty feet high. Both horses were killed and Wendell and Buck frightfully crushed. They lay for two hours before help reached them. Their injuries are probably fatal.

SUNTAY, Pa., Nov. 18.—The suits of the farmers along the Mahoning and Shamokin creeks against the Reading Coal and Iron Co. and individual operators in which over $1,000,000 is involved, will be amicably settled. ## SECRET SOCIETIES.

Under the Ban of the Catholic Church.

THE CONFERENCE OF ARCHBISHOPS

Takes Up and Disposes of the Matter—Not Free Masons Only But Odd Fellows and Sons of Temperance Excommunicated.

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—The second day's session of the annual conference of the archbishops of the Roman Catholic church in the United States began at 10 o'clock yesterday morning at the archiepiscopal residence, Cardinal Gibbons presiding, as at Wednesday's session. All the archbishops or their representatives were present, as was Archbishop Seelye, the papal delegate. Again the deliberations were carried on behind closed doors.

The major portion of the time, it was learned, was occupied in a discussion of the question of the condemnation of certain secret societies. The deliberations referred chiefly to the Odd Fellows, numbering about 500,000 in the United States, and the Sons of Temperance, whose roll includes about 70,000 members. Archbishop Keizer, of Milwaukee, brought the matter to the attention of the council by presenting the petition of the German Catholic central society of the United States, which was adopted at Dubuque, Ia., in September last, asking the conference to clearly define the designation "secret society" in plain and unmistakable terms, as some doubt has been raised in the minds of some of the church authorities as to whether the societies named come under the ban of the papal bull.

In explaining his position, Archbishop Keizer said that it is absolutely true that the Free Masons are the only society forbidden by the church and that, consequently, a Catholic may join any other: lodge or society, except the Free Masons.

He quoted from the injunction of the third plenary council at Baltimore as follows:

1. That all former degrees of the Roman pontifical society, and all societies composed by the Holy See are to remain in full force, according to the tenor of the constitution "Apostolicum Sedes," and the statute of the Roman pontifical society.

2. That the Free Masons and the Carbonari are excommunicated by name.

3. That any society which, though not mentioned by name, are excommunicated if they are of the same nature as the Free Masons and the Carbonari, and if they are secret societies which openly or secretly go against the church or against the lawful government of the state.

4. That any society which, though not mentioned by name, are excommunicated if they have their own minister or chaplain, their own ritual and their own ceremonies in such a manner as to become a heretic or schismatic society.

5. That any society which requires its members to take an oath, and to keep it, and to reveal its secrets to anyone, not even to the ecclesiastical authority, that is, the bishop, and that the members of such societies are to be excommunicated if they do not do so.

6. That any society which, though not mentioned by name, are excommunicated if they are of the same nature as the Free Masons and the Carbonari, and if they are secret societies which openly or secretly go against the church or against the lawful government of the state.

8. That any society which requires its members to take an oath, and to keep it, and to reveal its secrets to anyone, not even to the ecclesiastical authority, that is, the bishop, and that the members of such societies are to be excommunicated if they do not do so.

9. That any society which, though not mentioned by name, are excommunicated if they are of the same nature as the Free Masons and the Carbonari, and if they are secret societies which openly or secretly go against the church or against the lawful government of the state.

DECATUR, ILLINOIS

FRIDAY EVE, NOV. 18, 1892.

It would be well for the Democratic organs to remember the "Democratic Tariff Law" which they earned at the head of the editorial columns during the campaign. Unless this is done, the people may forget that the Democratic organs were ever opposed to the McKinley tariff law.

Mr. Van Fraug, who was defeated for member of the house of representatives in one of the Chicago districts, proposed to contest the seat of Mr. E. B. Egan, a colored man who was elected by some 800 majority. Egan is not noted for his morality, and yet he alleges fraud as the basis for his contest.

The Georgia legislature, which is Democratic to the core, passed resolutions this week calling upon the incoming congress to carry into effect the provision of the Democratic National platform for the repeal of the 10 per cent tax on state banks. The Democracy of Georgia did not buy into it, and it is to be expected in the hands of Democratic opposition meetings there, as a bribe on the notion that the Democrats meant what they said in their platform.

The Evening News of Newark, N. J., says that a number of Republicans in East Orange in that state have formed a club for the nomination of Robert T. Lincoln for President in 1896. The club is called the "Lincoln Club" and the secretary is H. L. Wente. The club evidently means business, and it has to work for a man not only with a historic and noble name, but one of ability and high character, and of whom Illinois is justly proud. The work of the club will be regarded with interest by a great many in this state and throughout the western states.

Chicago Evening Journal. The New York Herald before the election was at least frank in its efforts to scare the workmen into an attitude hostile to the tariff, telling them, among other things, that it had raised wages in this country that they would be overwhelmed with competitors from Europe in search of those wages. Now it sounds an opposite note. "The people don't want the McKinley law repealed," it declares the incoherent Herald. "To repeal the law or to chase congress on to tamper hastily with its provisions would disturb business, depress stocks, unsettle values, upset industries, and throw the country into such a panic as it has not experienced since 1857." That is rather a vivid picture for a Democratic paper to sketch as a result of the prompt adoption of the policy of the party. Yet there is much of realism in it.

Powderly's Views Grand Master Workman Powderly, in his address to the Knights of Labor, in session at St. Louis, recommended two reforms that are worthy of the far consideration of every right-minded American citizen. The first was that no one should be allowed to vote who cannot read his own ballot, and second that no immigrant should be landed in this country for a period of ten years, unless such immigrant shall prove he has sufficient means to sustain himself and those depending on him for one year.

That there is too much ignorance, for the good of the country, among the voters of the United States must be admitted. And it must also be admitted that the country will be better off in proportion as it prevails to the front the matter of intelligent suffrage. While it is true that a considerable per cent of those who cannot read are men of good sense and fair judgment, it is true also that the remainder are simply the tools of those who seek to deceive them and drive or lead them to their death.

The immigration question is the offspring of the tariff and labor question.
The free trader has insisted that foreign immigration is the enemy of organized labor, and that by it American labor is forced to compete with it, thus making free trade in labor. This has led such leaders as Powderly to favor the close restriction of foreign immigration. What may ultimately come of the question as a matter of compromise, it is not possible to say. Let us but remember that the restriction of foreign immigration is one of the leading planks in the platform of principles advocated by the American workmen, and when it comes it will be tough to a finish.

Ingersoll on Democratic Intentions Much speculation is being indulged in as to what the Democrats, now that they will have the support of the government, will dare do in the matter of the tariff, and of course when so important a political question is under discussion the newspaper interviewers and editors intervene with Robert G. Ingersoll.
Mr. Ingersoll was found at Cleveland, O., and his opinion is found in the following answer to the question, "Will the Democrats have the courage to stand by the Chicago platform in Congress?"

"The Democrats have two platform one adopted at Chicago and one elected in November—but both agree substantially about free trade in labor. They may offer silver and state banks, but I am not quite certain, because the No. 1 number platform kept rather quiet about the silver question. The two platforms must be considered together, with the understanding that the New York one is in the saddle. The Democrats insist that tariff for protection is robbery, and the question is, will the Democrats have the courage to vote against what they believe to be robbery? I take it for granted that they will. I believe that they are in earnest, and that they are convinced that free trade will lower the prices and raise wages, that if the free trade is not in the hands of the government, it will be in the hands of the way raise the price of wheat and corn, and that when trade is free we will have no strikes and no trouble with working men. In other words, that employers and employed will love each other and work harmoniously together, as they do in England. Of course the Democrats will carry out the Chicago platform, and the New York one will let them, and it will be the best thing to do. The question of the tariff ought to be settled as soon as possible. Let us give the Democrats a fair chance and let them be judged then not by our prejudices, but by the results."

FOR CHRIST AND THE CHURCH

Opening of the State Endeavor Convention in Decatur.

THE CORDIAL WORDS OF GREETING.

Sermon by Dr. Burrell---Open Parliament To-Day---The Attendance Large---Free Exchange of Ideas Good Papers by Ladies---To-Night's Services.

The weather was not very encouraging to the Endeavorers yesterday. Large numbers however came in on the trains until our streets were lined with visitors from all parts of the state. The first meetings were held at 4 o'clock yesterday and last night. The 4 o'clock convention was held in the lecture room of the Presbyterian church and was devoted largely to prayer for the success of the convention. The meeting was conducted by President Charles B. Holdredge and Mrs. F. D. Ragg of Champaign presided at the organ. The singing was in charge of L. F. Lindsay of St.
Louis.

The night session was also held at the Presbyterian church. Notwithstanding the bad weather the church was packed.
The exercises opened with a song service led by L. F. Lindsay, singing the Endeavor songs. During this part of the service Mr. Lindsay announced a song dedicated to Decatur and this session of the Y. P. S. C. E. This song was sung with much enthusiasm and was creditable to the author.

Rev. C. E. Torrey read the Eighth Psalm in a responsive service and W. I.
Davenport, of Weldon, led in prayer.
Then the convention sang that good old song which makes all men feel fraternal, "Blest Be the Tie That Binds." President Holdredge divided the responsibility of appointing the usual committees by requesting the delegates from Quincy, Chicago, Decatur, Rockford, Peoria, East
St. Louis, Springfield, Bloomington, Galesburg, Danville, Champaign and Jacksonville, to select one person from each of these cities to serve on a nominating committee.

The President was also instructed to appoint a committee to revise the constitution, to report not later than Saturday.

Rev. W. H. Penhalligon, of the First Presbyterian church of this city, then proceeded to deliver the welcoming address which was full of brilliant and pleasing passages and thoughts. President Charles E. Holdredge delivered the response. He said: "In behalf of the delegates and the Illinois union, I thank you for this cordial and eloquent welcome. I remember when, a year ago in Peoria, we decided to come here this year. We have been praying since then for the success of this convention. We are sure our prayers and yours will be answered. We shall pray from beginning to end that the work of our Lord and Master Jesus Christ shall be glorified and prospered. You remember how Dr.
Holdredge closed his speech at Peoria:
"Lead on Decatur." I trust that Decatur will lead on, and that here the convention shall do better than it ever has done.

I trust that we have all come here with love for each other and love for the cause of Jesus Christ. I trust that in all that we do here we shall be actuated by love for each other. If we sacrifice nothing for others this work means nothing to us. If we do sacrifice for others we shall make this work fruitful for ourselves. Let us then work together, heart to heart, anxious only for the glory of this work.

We thank these Decatur friends for this beautiful home of worship, for the homes they have opened to us and for their kind welcome and their earnest words."

President Holdredge introduced Rev.
James Burrell, pastor of the Collegiate Reformed church of New York City, who delivered the convention sermon. He began by saying: "It is a man who could not say anything to an audience like this is as Shakespeare said, 'It is for treason, stratagem and spite.' I can see this is a determined audience. These forces show that they mean something." The sermon was replete with encouragement to Christian workers and full of wholesome advice as to the proper method and spirit for effective Christian work.

After the sermon there was a song and then Rev. Thomas B. Morris of Chicago offered prayer. Mr. Penhalligon then announced that if any delegates had not been located they could be properly located by calling upon the entertainment committee. The committee all wear badges by which they may be known. After another song Rev. H. H.
Ouel of Decatur pronounced the benediction.

FRIDAY, NOV. 18---MORNING.
The desire meeting at 8 o'clock was conducted by Rev. E. M. McMillan of Gibson City, the motto of the service being "What Seek Ye?" followed by a song service.

BUSINESS.
President Holdredge opened the business session of the convention at 9 o'clock when Charles F. Mills, the state secretary, read a report making very gratifying showing of the growth and influence of the Endeavor societies in the state, all united in the noble work for "Christ and the Church." The active membership of the past year had increased over 4000. There has been marked increase in the junior societies. Illinois was third in the list of states in point of numbers. There are 1500 societies in the state, the average membership estimated at 45, making nearly 68,000 young people enlisted in the work of the Lord in the state. The societies are divided as follows:

Presbyterian	390	17,750
Congregational	300	13,000

open meeting. Topic, "Our Convention." Benjamin Raney, of Danville, addressed the convention on the delegates' responsibility, followed by an address by Miss Serita L. Stewart of Quincy on How can the most good be obtained. The leaders urged personal responsibility and active work in the church and in every-day life. Many delegates from various parts of the state made comments on the papers and offered suggestions how best to profit by the convention. One Chicago lady said the delegates should put away their note-books, pay attention and drink in that which is best. She was hopelessly in the minority.

Singing by the congregation.
"Edoos from the Field," by District officers, was a service conducted by State Secretary Mills. Four brief prayers preceded the exercises. Brothers Ragg, Callender and Brown were among those called upon.

Rev. W. H. Tuley, of Macon, Rev.
Temple, of East St. Louis, Bro. Leavitt, of Canton, Bro. Hamill, of Chicago, Bro.
Rockwood, of Gibson City, Bro. Stouss, of Belleville, Bro. Miller, of Normal, Bro.
Reynolds, of La Salle and Grundy counties, Bro. Hughes, of Quincy, Bro. Hughes, of Millstone, Bro. Hughes, of Jacksonville, Bro.
Frampton, Pittsfield, Sister Ethel Phillips, Cairo, Miss Stewart, Quincy, Sister Allen, of Fillmore, Sister Wilkey, Danville, Sister Sabin, of Chatham, Bro.
Mills, Sangamon county, and many others gave reports of good work everywhere in the state.

Singing---"Work for the Night is Coming."

THE OPEN PARLIAMENT.
The open parliament service, which was a time of free discussion, was conducted by Rev. Davenport. Earnest prayers were offered by Bros. Stewart, Clark, Willis and Haglins. The general topic for discussion was "What can we put into our work the coming year to make it more effective?" The first paper was by Miss Laid, of Chicago, on "Friends of Societies." Miss Brown's idea of efficient work is that no member of any society should be without some degree of personal responsibility. The president should have personal magnetism and become a leader socially as well as in the practical work of his society, and all members should assist.

"Corresponding Secretaries" was the topic assigned by Mrs. J. B. Bailey, of Mendota. She suggested that the secretary should be made a permanent office, who is the connecting link between the home society and all other societies. He should always be active in making information and in extending the influence of the Endeavor work.

There was general discussion as to the duties of presidents and corresponding secretaries, which were pointed and helpful.

Singing---"True Hearted, Whole
Hearted."

"Societies, Sentinels," was the caption of a thoughtful paper read by Mrs. Chas.
E. Torrey, of Decatur. The paper considered the practical duties of the local committee and was heard with pleasure and profit. It was well read and the lady was generally applauded at the close.

Singing---"Hide Me." William McNeill, of Chicago, a native of Scotland, talked entertainingly on "Plagued Endeavor," in place of Rev. J.
M. Sturtevant, of Galesburg, who had telegraphed that he could not be present.
Bro. McNeill is original in thought and delivery, and may be put down as the chief humorist of the convention.

Prayer by Rev. St. Louis, of St. Louis.

Singing---"True Hearted, Whole
Hearted."

The Pastors' Half Hour service was conducted by Rev. H. H. Ouel of Decatur. It was a service devoted wholly to the personal testimonies of the pastors as to the benefits the Endeavor members were to the ministers and the church. Revs. Ouel and Torrey of Decatur, Smith, of Normal, Dana of Quincy, Clark, of Peoria City, Haley, of Macon, Stoltz, of Streator, Traxler, of Springfield, Day, of Chicago, Foster of Ontario, Logan, of Springfield, Kuntz, of Decatur, Hill of Peoria, Reynolds of Peoria, Miller of Normal, Bartlett of Peoria, Vokel of Naperville, Wallace of Chicago, and others, voiced the blessings the societies had been to them in the work.

After the adjournment the business men's prayer meeting was held at the Y. M. C. rooms. It was largely attended.

CONVENTION NOTES.

It was stated that a member of a Chicago society had gone to Washington in the west, and had organized a working society in two families.

One young lady who spoke said she was from Joe-liet, with the accent on the Joe.

By a show of hands it was demonstrated that a large majority of the societies in the state hold their best meetings on Sunday evening.

The societies at Streator and Ottawa, besides doing missionary work, pay the salaries of two clergymen for preaching in the fields.

The Quincy society reports that it is young men could be induced to attend the Endeavor meeting. A laugh went around when a young man called out,

"Send the girls after them."

One society has more boys than girls, and the boys had gone after the girls and they were getting more numerous in that society.

A lady stated that her society was paying for a telephone at the house of a confirmed invalid so that he could talk to friends in his town.

Miss Stewart said one thing should be remembered, and that is, that corresponding secretaries should correspond.

Somebody asked, "How shall we best advocate presidents of societies as to their duties?" A delegate answered, "Send them to the convention."

SUICIDE BY DROWNING.

The Body Found in Water Waist snowstorm Coroner Bendure received a telegram to come to the Sangamon river four miles east of Decatur and take charge of the body of a man that had been pulled to the edge of the stream and tied to a tree. The coroner drove out at an early hour this morning and held the inquest. The body was identified as that of Charles Chandler, aged 34 years and single, foreman in Wabash truck department for eleven years. It was stated that Chandler had been seen yesterday afternoon walking over the Wabash bridge. Later in the evening two young men while walking on the west bank of the river, above the bridge, discovered a man's hat, and a short distance away in the water waist deep they saw the body of a man. They pulled it to the shore and tied it to a tree. The verdict of the jury was that the deceased had come to his death by drowning. He jumped into the water in his shirt sleeves, leaving his coat on the bank. The pockets were filled with rocks. The body is at the Burlard undertaker's rooms.

Deceased was a son of Mr. and Mrs.
Alfred Chandler, who resides at 404 East Bradford street. His sisters are Mrs.
Esther Sheets, Miss Maud, Eds and Lillie Chandler.

Chandler was at his home yesterday apparently in good spirits. The only motive assigned for the suicide is that Chandler had become discouraged because he could not quit drinking. He had been taking the drink cure and doubtless he had a hard struggle. He was temporarily deranged when he took his life. He left a note at his home telling his parents that they would find his body in the Sangamon river near the Wabash bridge. The note was not found until this morning.
